

Veterinary Compounding

Making medication a treat for your pet!

As pet owners and veterinarians know, animals can be difficult to treat with medications.

Cats refuse to swallow pills, dosages are tricky for dogs depending on their size and large/exotic pets pose unique medication challenges.

Morgan Compounding Pharmacy is equipped to help with the following solutions:

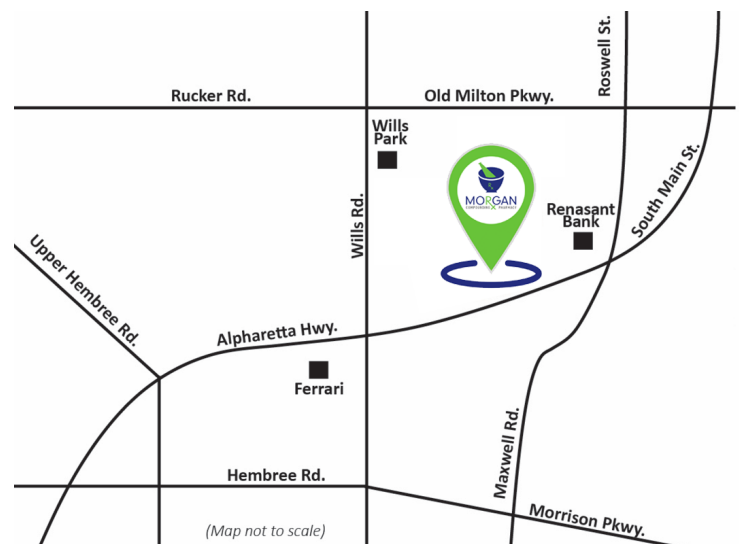

- Flavored pet medications including tuna, chicken, beef and more!
- Smaller capsules for easier swallowing
- Flavored suspensions
- Transdermals, medications that are absorbed through the skin of the ear flap
- Custom Strength medications for products not commercially available
- Transdermal NSAIDS to avoid GI tract irritation

Our compounding pharmacist, Josh Morgan, has achieved the professional rating of Veterinary Specialist by completing a rigorous program of study, Comprehensive Core Concepts in Compounding, offered by PCCA. The course includes foundational clinical concepts and therapeutics in veterinary compounding and specialized study of anatomy and physiology of different species including: canine, feline, equine, rabbit, avian, ferret and pocket pets.

We are happy to mail your prescription or feel free to come by and pick it up! We are located at
